Respected Sir,

Respected Sir, No. 1/8/47

I beg your gracious permission to approach you once again in respect of my removal from service in the Education Department

I am very much grieved to receive the orders that my prayer for reinstatement in my original appointment as Assistant Master can not be granted and that I should seek fresh appointment in any other Department except the Education Department. It is already more than a year and a half since I was obliged to cease to work as a teacher and earn my livelihood. I was more a poor victim of the circumstances than an offender. The bitter consequences of my folly have plunged me into deep sorrow, shame and misery. I have fallen on wretched days consequent upon my removal from service in the Education Department. Fully equipped in English language and literature I entered this learned profession in 1943 with a spirit of service and sacrifice. I made the right choice of profession to which I have a special aptitude and to which I am well settled down. This holds a bright and interesting future.

for me I would have become ~~an~~ Head Master by this time if I was not removed from service. Even the present Director of Public Instruction, the Deputy Commissioner who was the President of the School Committee and the Head Master, had written letters to the Government recommending for my reinstatement.

I am a young man with a long future before me. But the present orders will completely darken my future. I, therefore, humbly pray that, in consideration of my young age and my suitability for the profession, you may be pleased to show that consideration and sympathy which are inherent in you and reinstate me in my original appointment as Assistant Master and restore my seniority in service. I once again pray to give me a chance, thereby, to prove worthy of your mercy by continuing to render my humble services to the Education Department, on the strength of my solemn assurance that it will not have a demoralising effect.

23rd July 1947

I beg to remain,
Esteemed Sir,
Your most obedient servant
S H Rame Gowda
